

From: Craig Lang [craig@flyingfrontiers.com]
Sent: 01 May 2014 11:13 AM
To: jdewet@mweb.com.na
Subject: Re: Form Submission - New Form - Toyota engine

Hi Johan

We are complete with the development, and I have a shipment waiting to clear customs in Durban, but it is components, and not complete engines yet. The engines will be shipped shortly, and will take about 6 weeks to get here.

I would be willing to sell a kit, and will be able to do so hopefully in the next couple of weeks. I have sourced an engine locally which I have already mounted on my trike, and next week, assuming all the pieces I am expecting in the shipment are there, will be able to put it all together and run it.

The biggest issue you would have if you sourced an engine locally would be the Ecu, as this has been specially adapted, and we have had special wiring harnesses made up. I will have to see if I can source enough loose Ecu's and harnesses. I have 1 set coming in for my engine with this shipment.

Let me open the boxes, hopefully tomorrow, and then I can give you some more details. In the kit would be:

Bellhousing, clutch & flywheel, shafts & bushes & bolts, 3 rubber Lord's type engine mounts, either a Gearbox or belted drive, depending on your choice, 2 x fuel pumps, and Ecu & harness, and radiator. May also include lightweight starter and alternator, and possibly 2 x lithium phosphate batteries (weigh 1kg each for 18 aH equivalent) to help keep weight down and offer a backup battery. Need to do my final costings on all this.

Price will be around the R80-90000 mark. The engine you should be able to source for around R10000.

The new engines will come standard with the lighter components, and Ecu and equipped as above, for around the R130000 mark, excluding the extras such as batteries, fuel pumps etc. all in, about R150000.

I'll let you know as soon as I open the boxes, and we can chat some more.

Regards
Craig

Sent from my iPad

On 30 Apr 2014, at 4:49 PM, Squarespace <no-reply@squarespace.com> wrote:

Name: Johan de Wet

Email Address: jdewet@mweb.com.na

Subject: Toyota engine

Message: Hi Craig

Had some contact with you regarding the toyota engine some time ago.
See you have the reduction belt drive etc but where do you stand with the actual delivery of the complete unit or are you willing to sell the drive systems etc and let me source my own engine.

Do you have any indications on pricing

regards
Johan de Wet
Swakopmund
Namibia

(Sent via *Flying Frontiers*)